a dhsi workshop series

2012-13

“Collating Your Texts: Using Juxta to Identify Textual Variants”
- Stephen Ross & J. Matthew Hculak, UVic Dept. of English

This workshop introduces participants to the Juxta collation tool. We will spend the first few minutes discussing genetic criticism. In the remaining time, we will walk through the process of using Juxta to ingest texts, identify variants, and visualize differences.

Friday, Nov. 23rd | 12:30-1:30 pm | Maker Lab (TEF 243)

register: maker@uvic.ca
open to eight participants
